Joe lives in a small village near the mountains. He goes to school by bus in the mornings. He has to catch the bus at 8.00 and his first class is at 8.30. At school he sometimes enjoys his classes, but he really enjoys the breaks. He usually plays football with his friends, and goes to guitar classes two days a week. He likes going to the school drama club where they prepare a play for the end of year show.
After school he often has a lot of homework, but on Tuesdays and Thursdays he goes to basketball training with the team from his village. They have matches at the weekend—sometimes they win, but more often they lose! Joe likes playing because he is with his friends.
